The Jane S. Heman Lodging

In the Jane S. Heman Lodging, adult cancer care patients served by Community Medical Center will have common space and four welcoming, accessible, and affordable suites for rest, renewal, and community. The Heman Lodging brings a landmark program of adult patient housing to Montana, only the second such partnership with a Ronald McDonald House in the United States.

This unique lodging partnership is coordinated by our Foundation for Community Health, and the development of the Heman Lodging was made possible by the Jane S. Heman Foundation, donors to Foundation for Community Health, the Ronald McDonald House, and Community Medical Center.

Together, we strive to build on the community of support that surrounds cancer care patients undergoing treatment for their journey forward.

Jane S. Heman

Jane Shaw Heman was born in the Midwest in 1920. Her passion for education led her to an English degree and opportunities to teach in the Midwest and in European military schools.

With her husband, Howard, she moved to the Bitterroot Valley in 1978, and continued as a force for good education and healthy communities through her service and generous contributions.

Jane chose to live a frugal life, and ultimately built the lasting legacy of the Jane S. Heman Foundation to support the health and well-being of the greater Bitterroot Valley through practical and effective investments in education and health initiatives. Jane passed away in 2007.

Cancer impacted Jane's family, which adds special meaning to the creation of the Jane S. Heman Lodging as an honorable health and well-being investment for the Heman Foundation.
